

Dear Jennifer,

I think it's safe to say that of all the people I've encountered these past two years, you have helped me the most on my journey to become a better special ed. teacher. The knowledge and experience that you've shared with me has been invaluable, and the curriculum has been a huge relief and blessing. You have this rare gift of being able to see what I might need and how much of it I can take without being overwhelmed. I guess that's part of why you're such an amazing teacher. Most of all I appreciate the graciousness and positivity with which you've approached me when I've felt upset or overwhelmed. It really helped me feel empowered to take the steps I could to become better. Thank you so very much. Best wishes,
Sarah
